FRESHMEN ORIENTATION

This year Trevecca went all out in an effort to better prepare the new freshmen for college life. The directors of this program, Rick Ryding and Craig Keen, developed constructive activities to enrich the freshmen in all aspects of college life.

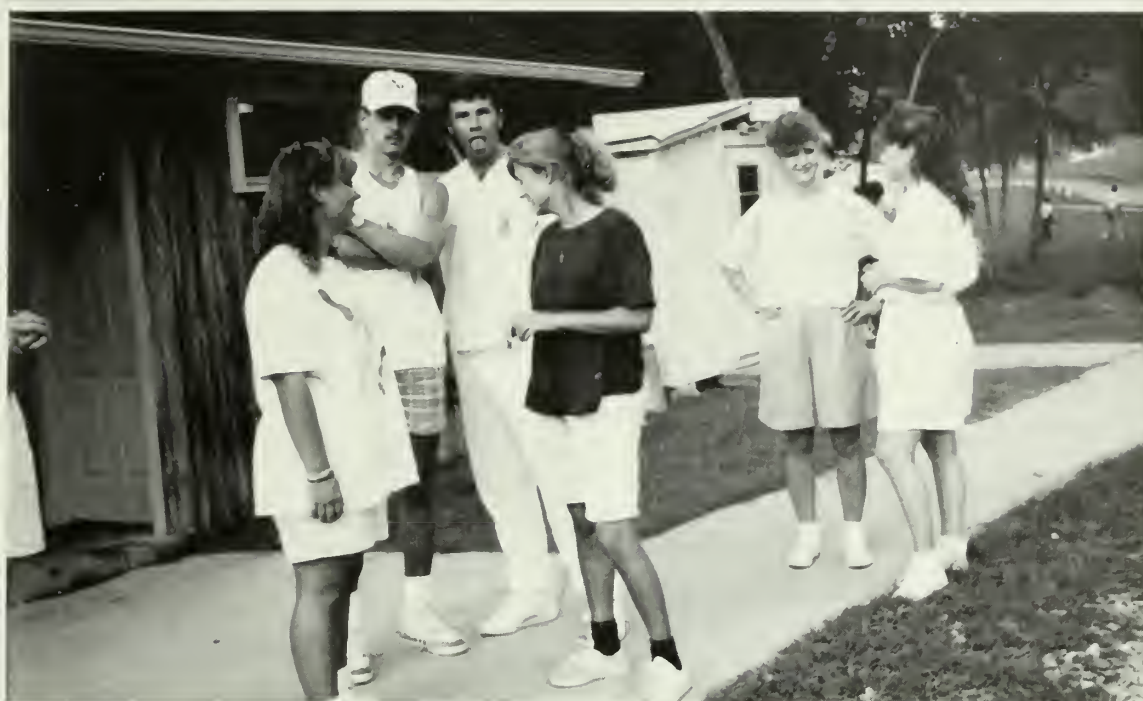

Some of the events and activities that took place were freshmen study groups, a freshmen retreat, a scavenger hunt, and the traditional student mixer. All these events and more gave the freshmen a great advantage over the "freshmen jitters."

Above: Erin and Tracey board the bus to leave after spending a fun filled day at their retreat. Right: New Direction was the entertainment at the dinner that was held for freshmen and their parents.

Left: Members of the freshmen class get acquainted with the other members of their class at the freshmen retreat.

Below: The afternoon was a fun time for everyone that took part in the retreat.

Middle left: Aaron Harden helps serve at the banquet that was held for the freshmen and their families.

This was the first Block Party at TNC. Its huge success has led Seniors to adopt this as one of their annual projects. Pioneer bar-b-qued chicken and burgers on the grill. They served this with all the fixin's of a great picnic. New Direction sang a great mixture of spiritual and popular secular music. Lots of activities were going on all around such as volleyball, frisbee, and football. It was a super time of fun and fellowship!!!

Above left: A group of students patiently wait in line to eat the dinner that was bar-b-qued out by Pioneer.

S.G.A. ANNUAL CLUB RUSH

The annual Club Rush sponsored by S.G.A. supplies the new students with a chance to take a look at the various clubs and organizations that Trevecca has to offer. Each participant in Club Rush sets up a table that displays their activities and service to the school and the community.

This year the event was held outside on the ledge of the Jernigen Student Center. There were refreshments and fun for all the participants and the spectators.

CIRCLE K HU-UHDDLE

The 1988 Circle K 1st Semester Huddle was held early in the Fall Semester as a service to the student body. This event gave the students an opportunity to gather together and enjoy an evening of food, fun, and "Rebel Without a Cause." With footballs and frisbees being tossed around and the smell of hot dogs and hamburgers being grilled, it is hard to value this event as anything less than a success.

Middle right: A group of friends enjoy the fellowship at the Huddle. Bottom: Debbie Fisher thinks this is the perfect time to give James St. John a haircut.

Top left: The Sigma women were out enjoying the sun and fun that the Huddle provides.

FALL RETREAT

Fall Retreat was sponsored by S.A.C.

The speaker Rev. Bobby Milburn preached messages that touched everyone's heart and brought all these that attended closer together.

New Direction did an excellent job of providing the music. They sang some of their songs from their concerts as well as some church camp favorites.

One of the highlights of the weekend was the bon fire and hayride. After the hayride a brave few went up to the haunted house to tell ghost stories. The fun that weekend just never stopped. It was a growing experience for all.

Top left: Bryan Hulse and Paula Baggott sharing time together.

FRESHMEN INAUGURAL DAYS

The ceremony of initiating Freshman to the student body by Sophomores has always been a treasured tradition. The Freshman are assigned a Rat Master who picks out a lovely outfit for them to wear to lunch and dinner.

The purpose of this function is to speed up the process of helping the Freshman feel like they belong. The bonds and friendships between the Freshman and Sophomores that form are what it is all about. The day was polished off by having communion in the Fine Arts auditorium.

The Game Show Everyone Likes To Play . . .

WIN, LOSE, OR DRAW

TNC's version of this popular game show is always a lot of fun. Different clubs, classes, or just groups of friends enter teams and compete to win big bucks for their favorite charity.

Civinettes who sponsor this event did some hilarious commercials in between games. The puzzles were tough, but the teams really got into it. There were lots of great prizes for the contestants and door prizes for the audience. The final round came down to Rotaract and Senior class. Rotaract was victorious, and they donated their $75. winnings to the Nashville Boy's Club.

A Night Filled With Fun And Talent . . .

CIRCLE K VARIETY SHOW

This annual show sponsored by Circle K is a chance for all the undiscovered talent at TNC to show their stuff. Several clubs and organizations entered acts such as the Cheerleaders, Civinettes, Sigma, and Theta Chi. There were also some solo acts — Daniel Blair did his famous impressions and Shelley Love sang her rendition of “I’ll always love you.”

This charity event raised over $600. for the Guyana Mission Project.

Left: The members of Circle K closed the show by leading the crowd in the singing of our alma mater.

Take An Exciting Visit Back In Time . . .

SIGMA SOCIETY FIFTY'S PARTY

The Fifties party sponsored by Sigma Society was a neat-o trip back in time to the fifties. This charity event was designed to raise money for Y-CAP ministries as well as provide some fun for the students.

There were tons of booths and games scattered throughout the room. Big Al's was serving up old-fashioned chocolate malts and burgers. Some of the highlights of the night were the musical acts, the pie eating contest, the costume contest, and the limbo stick.

Middle left: Dale Benson and Joyce Barnett made the cutest 50's couple.

HALLOWEEN EVENTS

Halloween at TNC consists of several traditions: the Halloween party, the Halloween dinner, and trick-or-treat in the dorms.

The Halloween party was sponsored by the Senior Class and was held at Cedars of Lebanon. It was a truly festive occasion. There was lots of great food catered by Whitt's Bar-b-que. The class officers planned most of the party games for everyone to play. The evening was topped off by a hayride. Students going door to door begging for candy is also a familiar sight in October.

Top right: Kip McClurg tries to see if ten fat marshmallows can fit in his mouth all at the same time. Above: Leslie Rosequist takes part in the bowling game sponsored by Sigma Society.

Below: Shelley Jones makes an adorable clown as she trick0trick-or-treats through the dorms.

Above: One of the highlights of the trick-or-treating was the crazy and deranged participants on third floor Johnson.

CANDIDS

A Night Filled With X's And O's . . .

THETA CHI HOLLYWOOD SQUARES

The Squares were filled with TNC's "Stars." They were students from various clubs and organizations. The stars answered questions, and the contestants from the audience decided whether or not they were correct. Scott Adkins was the M.C. for the evening.

Some of the highlights of the night were the hilarious goodies that were brought by Steve Fountain, Trev-Echoes editor. This event was held to raise funds for the Cornerstone Thurst.

Above: Theta Chi members, Jana, helps take tickets at the front door to the show.

Middle right: Scott asks contestant, Susan Parrish, if she agrees or disagrees with the answer of the "stars." Right: Many different members of various clubs and organizations took part in the fun.

Above: Greg Wood kept the crowd laughing at all the silly antics that he and the persons around him took part in.

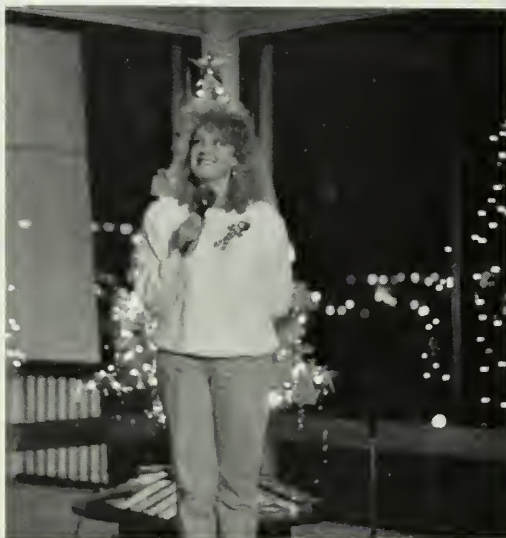

Middle left: Scott Sandell poses for his picture. Right: This is an action shot of just some of the silly things that the "stars" performed for the audience.

SIGMA AND CIVINETTES PRESENTS

THE CHRISTMAS PARTY

The All-School Christmas Party was great success this year. The event was once again sponsored by Civinnettes and Sigma. Some of the highlights of the evening included games, songs, and of course an appearance by Santa Clause himself.

Center right: There were lots of homemade treats at the party.

Center: The evening was highlighted by the appearance of Santa Clause.

Left: Joey Dunn gets ready to go under the pogo-stick that was one of the games.

FAMILY FEUD

Family Feud was presented to the student body by the member of Civinettes. The contestants in the games were members from other clubs and classes. The winner of this year's Family Feud was Sigma Society.

Above: Members of NSU discuss their answers before giving the best one.

Right: Sigma Society looks on eagerly to see if their answer was on the list of popular answers.

We Could Feel The Spirit In

CHAPEL

Many special chapel services were planned for the students this year. They included such chapels as the special AIDS lecture; the Joybells from Melmark; and many annual lecture series.

Above: Students from the Melmark school for the handicapped presented a handbell choir.

Left: Many of the chapel services left the students with the great need to grow in the Lord.

THE DATING GAME

This is a TNC version of the popular TV game show where one lucky person gets their choice of 3 mystery contestants. The crazy, spur of the moment answers keep the crowd laughing. Sigma was able to raise a nice sum of money for Warner Elementary as well as provide an evening of laughs for students.

Top right: Members of Sigma serve up refreshments. Top left: Sonya Ries does an excellent job of questioning her bachelors.

Center left: The Brown sisters did an awesome job of hosting.
Center: Randy Maxwell, Kevin (Belmont Student), and Jerry Holt deliberate over a question.

Top: Bachelorettes Vicki, Sandi, and Sandy are amazed at the questions.

Center right: Sandy Meadows was a little nervous before going on stage.

THE MUSIC DEPARTMENT PRESENTS . . .

THE SPRING CONCERT

The Spring Concert is an annual event sponsored by the Music Department. The songs that are performed are usually of a humorous nature. The event this year proved to continue in the tradition of fun for all.

Above: The Ambassadors entertained us with many humorous songs.

Center: Many students came out to watch their fellow students perform.

Left: Concert Choir joined the other performing groups in some songs of their own.

Below: The members of the crowd thought it would be fun if they could sing a few of their own songs.

CIRCLE K BLOOD DRIVE

This year's blood drives proved to be more than just another service project for Circle K. With the help of the student body, faculty, and staff, Circle K and the American Red Cross were able to conduct a successful collection of over three hundred pints of blood.

Top left: Trevecca students take part in the blood drive to save lives. Above: Members of Circle K work hard to insure the success of the event.

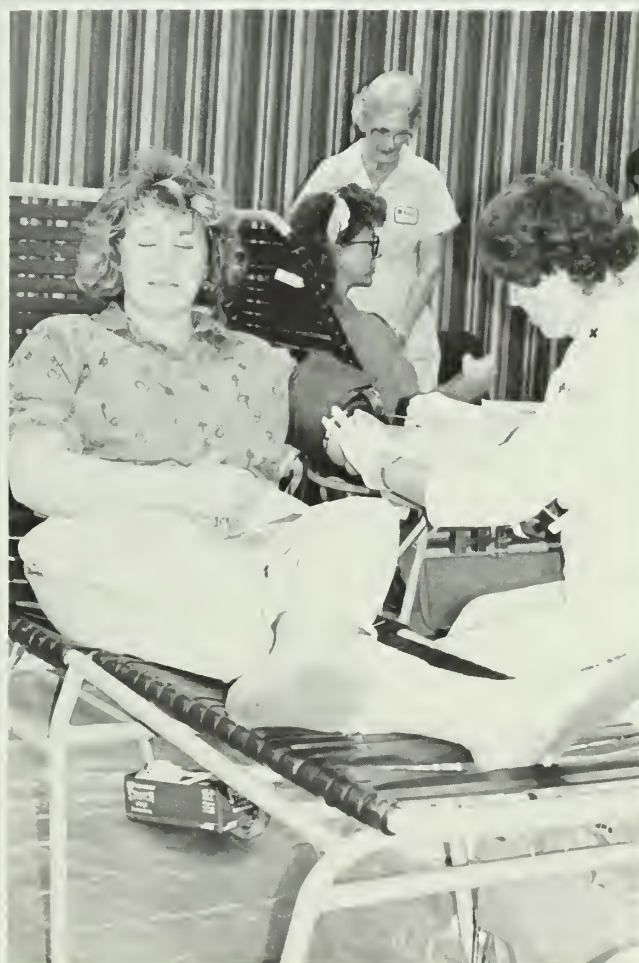

Middle right: Kenny Maroney and David Winchester were two of Circle K's members that dedicated their time to this good cause. Nice glasses guys.

Left: Jerry Holt demonstrates how much fun he had giving blood. He took it like a man.

Below: This doner looks as though the needle hurt just a little bit more than he bargained for.

Middle left: This is a sign of a really dedicated person to do what she's doing because that look on her face is saying that it really didn't feel too good.

Left: A good percent of the students and faculty turned out to participate in the blood drive.

SAC PRESENTS . . .

CRYSTAL LEWIS IN CONCERT

The first concert of the year was sponsored by the Students Activities Committee. The entertainer was Crystal Lewis from Point Loma Nazarene University. All who attended had a great time.

Top: Crystal Lewis' mom helped play the piano on one of Crystal's favorite hymns.

Center: Dana Hulse and Linda Johnson, members of SAC, helped in selling Crystal Lewis concert T-shirts and tapes.

Below: Crystal entertained us with some of her favorite songs.

Above: Crystal really got the crowd into the concert.

Left: The opening band did a great job.

FARRELL AND FARRELL

The Students Activities Committee presented this concert for the students and other guests in McClurkan Auditorium. This dynamic husband and wife contemporary Christian music duo really let the praise fly.

Top left: The crowd enjoyed the music the duo had to share.

Bottom right: The heart-felt music brought a blessing to all.

Left: Cleavland adjusts the sound just right for the concert.

Middle: The audience really got into the spirit of the concert.

Above: Farrell and Farrell sing "Through Your Eyes" from their previous album.

Left: They delivered all their songs with the power and energy of themselves.

TRUTH IN CONCERT

Truth was presented in concert by the Junior class. The concert was held at College Hill. As always Truth was spectacular. This is the one concert students wait for all year and they did not let us down.

Top left: All the soloists did a super job.

Center: Truth gives their all in concert.

Left: The band warms up before the concert. They were awesome.

Below: Truth sings "I Stand In Awe."

Center: All vocalists in Truth gives every song their all for the Lord.

Left: As Truth sang, the presence of the Lord could be felt by all.

THE ENGLISH DEPARTMENT PRESENTS . . .

SHAKESPEARE DAY

Shakespeare Day is presented annually by the English Department in appreciation of William Shakespeare. This event always proves to be fun for all those involved in the production and those who come out to watch.

Above: This little guy was a jester from the an era long ago.

Center: Students in the English department act out short skits to entertain the crowd.

THE SENIOR CLASS PRESENTS . . .

THE SPRING BLOCK PARTY

The spring block party was sponsored by the Senior Class. The event was a complete success. The students had great food to eat and lots of games to play. Some of the games they played were volleyball and a friendly game of waterballoon tag.

Above: Richelle thought that the watermellon was especially good.

Center: Pioneer foods kept us all very full with the great food that they prepare for us all.

Left: The students had a great time playing around and fellowshiping with each other.

Below: Eric and Kathleen had a wonderful time together.

Middle left: Edwina Husband enjoyed the watermelon also.

AND THEIR WAS EVEN MORE FUN . . .

THE SPRING BLOCK PARTY

Gosh we all had a good time! It was so much fun for all because it was a time where all the students got to cut loose with the rest of the student body.

Center: Donnie demonstrates the fine art of eating chicken.

Left: The fellowship with friends was good for all.

Below: The waterballoon fight was great fun for all those who dared to get involved.

Above: Meghan is not so sure here if she likes how her watermelon tastes.

Left: Just being with friends was all it took to have a great time.

Love Through The Ages . . .

THE 1989 VALENTINES PAGEANT

This years Valentines Pageant was a great success for everyone. The production of the event ran very smoothly and was very entertaining. This year's queen and her court are: Joyce Barnett, Queen; Pam Shirley, 1st runner up; and Sara Stark, 2nd runner up.

Top right: 1989 Valentines Queen, Joyce Barnett, Top left: The host and hostess for the evening were Harlin and Barbi Moore.

Senior — Beth Bearden

Senior — Kara Bowman

Junior — Melinda Moore

Junior — Sara Stark

Sophomore — Joyce Barnett

Sophomore — Pam Shirley

Freshman — Amy Foster

Freshman — Beverly Greer

All the contestants in the pageant put a lot of time and dedication into making the pageant a success. They worked hard together and were able to strengthen friendships as well as build new ones. Through all the hard times and frustration as well as the laughs, they made some great memories to keep.

SGA PRESENTS . . .

THE ALL SCHOOL LOCK-IN

The all school lockin was a chance for everyone to get together and play games and socialize. The trivia tournament was one of the big highlights of the evening. There was volleyball, basketball, and raquetball. It was an evening of fun for all.

Top left: Ty Rushing plays raquetball. Top right: Michelle and Melanie enjoy the fellowship.

Center: The volleyball court was the hot spot of the evening.

HOMECOMING 1988

This is the twentieth Homecoming at T.N.C. To celebrate, the junior class invited all the previous Homecoming queens to join in the coronation. The coronation took place Thursday, November 10, in Benson Auditorium. The coronation was well planned by the junior class officers and Dr. Melvin Welch. The masters of ceremony for the past 19 queens were Rev. and Mrs. Daniel Boone and for the 1988 court was junior class president, Paula Baggott, and officer, David Winchester. The 1988 Homecoming queen is Leigh Ann Smith, an education major from Nashville Tenn. She is the daughter of Alan and Carolyn Smith.

A TRADITION OF EXCITEMENT AND FUN . . .

1988 HOMECOMING PARADE

Trevecca's annual homecoming parade's grand marshalls for the day were Dean and Mrs. Harris. Following behind them, were the class homecoming attendants including our 1988 Homecoming Queen LeighAnn Smith. An entourage of clubs and organizations clamored closely behind with their floats promoting Trevecca's theme of "One Moment in Time." The parade fired everyone up for the evening's game.

Top left: Members of Civitans display their banner during the parade. Above: Darrel Boyd carries one of the "King's Kids" on his back through the parade.
